Salon staff shine at ceremony

COMMITMENT to customers and a structured reward program for staff are keys to Shine Beauty's ongoing growth and recent success at the Sunshine Coast Business in Excellence Awards.

Shine general manager Joel Turner said one of the questions in this year's awards submission asked about the training and development activities for employees.

"I am happy to say that at Shine we pride ourselves on our evolving business structure," he said.

"This year saw a major change in the Shine Beauty management structure, designed to achieve a more desirable work and lifestyle balance and ensure the continued happiness of our 30-plus staff."

In 2007, Shine had just one salon coordinator-trainer.

This year the company's head office was established in Caloundra and new roles were created to improve salon management with a new regional manager-trainer position, a floating manager-assistant trainer and a beauty development manager.

"The new training system and process breaks our business down into three sections of Shine Beauty core treatments, secondary treatments and niche treatments, so as to focus our Shine Beauty therapists and staff treatment training program, assessment processes, and to perfect our training measures," Joel said.

"We have also created and expanded our career path for these same staff and connected their training achievements and success measures to their level of opportunity and career advancement.

"Our therapists and staff now have a career path that has expanded to three levels of employee status and, within this system, called our new 2008 premier employee program, nine levels of advancement are achievable."

Joel said the performance of Shine Beauty salons could also be measured by industry acceptance.

"Shine has received multiple invitations and formal letters of offer from major Australian shopping centres such as the world's number one shopping centre organisation, Westfield, in Victoria for two prestigious shopping centre salon expansion sites," he said.

"However at present, our Shine business plan has us focusing on south-east Queensland salon-growth opportunities and perfection. "In line with this, our first salon Shine Southport has been refitted and upgraded to the new 2008 Shine salon look.

"We believe in excellence of service... It's a pleasure."

Accounting practice re-awakens passion

IN the past two and a half years, Universal KBO Accounting Solutions has experienced rapid growth, increasing almost fourfold.

Owner Michele Purvis attributes the success to setting goals, constant planning and monitoring and having extremely talented and motivated team members.

One shining example is Kalina Ejmont, who won the prestigious employee of the year for 2008 at the awards.

"This was our first-time nomination in the excellence in business awards," Michele said.

"Through our participation we not only re-evaluated our services and refocused on areas for improvement but, most importantly, we re-awakened a great passion and dedication to our business."

The firm hopes to become the best accounting practice on the Coast and thanks its clients for their support and ongoing business.
